Nurturing Hope, Transforming Lives: Frontiers In Oncology Nursing

Friday, 27 November 2026 | 8:30 AM - 4:30 PM | Registration: ₹ 500

Venue: Dr.Sk.Campus, 1st Flr Auditorium

"Caring For People With Cancer Means Treating The Person, Not Only The Disease."

About the Institute

A legacy of service, cancer care, education and research. The Cancer Institute (W. I. A.), Adyar, Chennai, is one of India's pioneering comprehensive cancer centres, founded in 1954 with the enduring ethos of "Service to All." Established through the vision of Dr. Muthulakshmi Reddy and nurtured by eminent pioneers including Dr. S. Krishnamurthi and Dr. V. Shanta, the Institute has grown from a modest 12-bed hospital into a renowned centre for cancer care, research, education, prevention and palliation. Recognized as a Regional Centre for Cancer Research and Treatment and a State Cancer Institute, it provides multidisciplinary cancer care spanning prevention, early detection, diagnosis, medical, surgical and radiation oncology, rehabilitation, survivorship and palliative care.

About the Conference

This 1st State Level Conference, titled "Nurturing Hope, Transforming Lives: Frontiers in Oncology Nursing," is a premier gathering designed to address the rapidly evolving landscape of cancer care. As oncology treatments become increasingly advanced and personalized, the role of the oncology nurse has expanded to require specialized knowledge, clinical expertise, and profound compassion.

Conference Objectives

Update Knowledge: Stay informed on recent advances and emerging trends in oncology diagnosis, treatment and nursing care.

Enhance Skills: Improve competency in safe and effective nursing management for patients receiving chemotherapy, systemic therapy and radiation therapy.

Manage Emergencies: Strengthen early recognition and management of oncological emergencies using timely, evidence-based interventions.

Strengthen Surgical Care: Improve nursing care across preoperative, postoperative, wound, stoma and rehabilitation pathways.

Promote Palliative Excellence: Support holistic, compassionate care through symptom [source text ends here].
